Multicultural Connection

CELEBRATIONS People everywhere celebrate when a new year arrives. The Chinese people celebrate the new year on the first day of the lunar, or moon, calendar, which falls between January 21 and February 19. The holiday is also called the Spring Festival. To prepare, people clean the house and pay their debts. On Chinese New Year, people wish each other good luck, good health, success, and other good things.

If you were invited to a Chinese home for a typical New Year's celebration, you would notice a sign on the front door like the one at the right. The sign says "Welcome to the new spring! May good fortune be yours."

Create your own Chinese New Year door sign. Write the message that you would use on your sign. Include any of the wishes mentioned above and one of your own.
