Course Overview

In eighteen weeks, we will introduce economics and how a market works, examine major economic theories, learn about business and labor, investigate money, banking, and finance, learn how to determine an economy's successes and failures, see how governments interact with the market, and examine current economics

Course Materials

Student issued lap top should be charged and brought to class daily.

Students should have a designated section in their binder for classwork.

Late Work Policy

It is expected that students will turn in high quality assignments on time. When students fail to turn in their assignment at the allotted time, they will receive a starting grade of 70. Students will have three [3] days to turn in their missing work. After three [3] days the student will receive a zero [0] and will not be able to make up the work.

Absences

It is vital that students are in class and ready to learn daily. When an absence is unavoidable, students should check Google Classroom to get their assignment for the missed day. Students are responsible for coming after school to makeup any work they missed. Students have the same number of days missed to make up their assignments to avoid losing points.

Reteach/Retest

Students will have the privilege of retesting on one [1] standard/multiple choice test per term. This does not include projects or papers. To qualify to retest, student must have completed all of the assignments for the unit and attend a mandatory reteaching session.
